June 2024

Dear Friends,

'Now remain in my love' John 15:9

Writing this letter feels very strange. I may not be leaving this Circuit but yet with four churches moving to two other Circuits, a minister moving, local preachers moving as well as Circuit stewards, I feel that I need to say farewell but yet offer encouragement and something to think about for all of us. What better place to find all of this than the bible.

John's Gospel has the Farewell Discourses in chapters 13 to 17 in which we have the accounts of the Last Supper, the journey to Gethsemane and Jesus' prayers of Intercession. The Synoptic Gospels do not have this title or some of these stories but they still have Jesus preparing his friends for his leaving them. An important part of John 14 is that he promises his disciples that he will give them another Counsellor to be with them, the Spirit of truth. Jesus didn't leave his friends, nor leave us to struggle with our Christian life alone. The Holy Spirit is someone who is called in to help in times of trouble or need.

The Methodist Church has several strange systems and it seems that many seem to go on forever. Transferring churches to a different circuit is one such system. We have been talking about this and making decisions for well over a year and as I write this, I can tell you that we had final Synod agreement last Saturday. It just means that Conference in the summer will ratify this. So all in all it has meant a long farewell. For me, it has felt strange to be celebrating the last Harvest, Christmas, Easter etc and also to have given the last this, that or whatever to two of my churches. I am sure that Denise will have felt the same with Vale Church.

This strange system may have taken a time to implement, but all is now in order. For all of the churches, much will remain the same. With God's help the preaching of the word of God, Baptism's, Marriages, Funeral Services, the presiding at the Lord's Supper, the teaching of the faith, the caring of the flock, etc will all continue. Worship will continue in your churches. The administrative elements will come from a different set of people, but it will be the same work. Denise and Colin the ministers for our four moving churches will work to strengthen the faithful, hold before you God's commitment to human community to your neighbourhoods and to all who live in them and to the world that God has made. For Kate and myself we will continue with all of these things too, in a much smaller Y&BV Circuit.

Let's go back to the bible. In all times of change Jesus would have spoken to his disciples and encouraged them. He is your strength, your constant guide and He says to you 'remain in my love' and 'Love each other'. In this time of transition hang on to those words and be assured that all will be well.

As this is a summertime magazine, I hope that you will find time to take time out for relaxation, refreshment and to have some fun. Enjoy the world that God has given you, enjoy his blessings and revel in His love.

For me, it has been a real privilege to be part of your life stories at special moments, to be able to minister to you as individuals and to share God's work with you as a circuit, a church and communities. Y&BV has been a special part of my faith journey and I hope that it has for you. We have achieved much together, we have learnt a lot and God has guided us to this point in time. I wish you every blessing as you continue your journey of faith with God with new circuits and with the remaining one in a different structure. Remain in His love.

With love and prayers from

Lin

FOR THE CHILDREN

(and the young at heart)

" I have found my sheep which was lost! "

crosses being given out by the children. We were reminded that Christ rode into Jerusalem, why did he choose to do this when walking was his way of reaching out to people. At our Friday 'Pause for Thought' Rev Judy had also touched on this very subject. I guess we all have our different views.

Rev Kate led our Maundy Thursday Act of Worship, the washing of feet and Holy Communion – Bible readings and hymns and responses intermingled with quiet times of reflection.

On Good Friday the Walk of Witness took place – the different town Churches joining up at various points to walk through the town to Vicarage Street and share in a bread and cheese lunch. During the afternoon there was a time of meditation and reflection at St John's and St Peter's – here various members read verses from St John's account of Good Friday, along with hymns for Passiontide. A basket of nails was passed around and we listened to a very moving poem 'The man who hammered those nails in'. – Much food for thought.

Our service on Easter morning was a very joyous occasion. We'd been asked to bring some flowers to decorate the cross and we didn't disappoint! There was a steady stream of young and not so young, taking their posies up to show that new life had sprung from the depths of a dark, wet winter – our gardens full of colour and hope for the coming days and that the cross too was showing us that from the darkness of Good Friday, Easter Day had brought new life and hope. The children played their part in the Easter Egg story. Narrated by Kate at various points eggs were smashed open – with the help of a bashing from a rolling pin, to show that the egg was hollow, just as on that first Easter morning, the tomb was found to be empty. With a bit more work with the rolling pin, we were all able to sample the 'empty tomb'.

It was good to see a full church sharing in the Easter Communion, followed by coffee and chat and the children searching for more eggs!

There are so many lovely Easter hymns, we don't always get the time and chance to sing them, so I will quite often open the hymn book and sing them quietly to myself. But my favourite must be 'Thine be the Glory Risen Conquering Son' – I'm sure you the reader must have yours!

Cheap Street Church

<http://cheapstreetchurch.co.uk/index.php>

Cheap Street Church has recently celebrated 30 years as The United Church. Back in 1994, after 16 years of taking alternate URC and Methodist services, a covenant was signed to work together and since that time the church has continued to absorb and welcome folk from other churches, and from no faith at all, to worship with us. Sometime this is just a fleeting visit, sometimes it becomes regular. 8 new members have been received this year and all are welcome here. Rev. Kate, our Minister, told us at our annual church meeting on Sunday that we are now the largest membership in the circuit, but there is plenty of room for more!

Whilst our Sunday service no longer has a Junior Church, our second congregation does have regular youngsters who attend. We meet once a month on a Monday evening, with worship focused on a theme – recent ones being Hope (in January) and Rebirth (in April). We centre the evening on a piece of music – usually secular – which often provokes lively discussion. Stormzy’s ‘Blinded By Your Grace’ was a particularly memorable piece of music and perhaps one that not many had heard before or had really appreciated the lyrics. The sharing of food and drink helps the evening along and we have been heartened by the experiences shared by all ages.

Other positive news is the starting of a new Church group for teenagers. It’s called The Hangout and will be run by Lydia Bird, the youth worker appointed by Reborne Community Church and St. Paul’s C of E. The group will be meeting at the United Church’s hall, once a month on a Sunday evening and we are very much looking forward to supporting Lydia and all involved in this venture.

A Spring Cleaning morning has recently been held in the church in order to reach some of the corners and cobwebs that can’t be managed in the Greetings! – A quick look back to February, when our AGM took place at the close of morning worship and in between our bring and share lunch. A well-informed booklet had been produced reminding us first of the meeting back in September 2022! Then followed present-day reports from the various groups. An in-depth review of our buildings, their upkeep and various issues that need urgent attention - the big window at Chelston Avenue and the hall heating at the Quedam. Application has been made for the removal of the church pews to enable us to move forward with our Quedam Vision – a lengthy process to the Methodist and other various bodies. This has now been approved so we hope to move forward with this exercise. A fundraising group has been formed for events to take place for the new window and new heating system. Bingo, film night, gift day and summer fayre are in the pipeline.

Yeovil Methodist Church at Chelston Ave

Our Mothering Sunday Service was led by Rev Margaret, who reminded us of it’s true meaning, lost amid the trappings of commercialism! How girls in service would return for the first time since Christmas to their ‘Mother Church’ and their families, taking with them a sweet fruit cake covered with marzipan and decorated with 11 marzipan balls – to represent those disciples true to Christ – known to us as a Simnel Cake.

Margaret also spoke on ‘Mothers’ mentioned in the Bible and of our own mothers and how they helped shape our own lives – for some it can be a bittersweet day.

Yeovil Methodist Church in the Quedam

We thank Margaret for leading us in a very sensitive and meaningful service. We left uplifted, along with a lovely posy – so thank you to all those who prepared those colourful spring sprays.

Wincanton Methodist Church

<http://www.yeovilblackmorevalemc.org.uk/our-churches/wincanton>

Like most churches in our Circuit, Wincanton Methodist Church has had its ups and downs in the last few years; happily I don't think our downs have been as severe as many of our churches have had. The once thriving Tots and Toys group which met in our hall, lost its financial backing and regrettably had to disband, and the choir Spectra Musica which used to rehearse in the church once a week has also gone to the wall. Covid has a lot to answer for on many fronts.

The closure of Gillingham Methodist Church has meant that some of that congregation have now come to Wincanton, and we give them a warm welcome. Our congregation numbers are happily increasing; three years ago we struggled to reach ten in the congregation, but now we are usually in the mid-teens and sometimes in the twenties.

And a large "up" in our case is that the Methodist Homes for the Aged group (MHA's Live at Home Scheme) has increased attendance, meeting each Tuesday and Thursday, and a lunch on two Wednesdays a month with an exercise session on the intervening Wednesdays. All this is thanks to an excellent management team and volunteers.

With the disbandment of the Yeovil and Blackmore Vale Circuit Wincanton will be joining the Somerset Mendip Circuit in the Bristol District. Although we will be under a different umbrella it will not make very much difference to our church. The MHA and all the other activities will continue as before.

Another possible development though is that the Baptist Church in Wincanton are having to leave their current building, and may well be coming to our church to worship. Amicable discussions are ongoing, and we have a combined service with them when there is a fifth Sunday in the month.

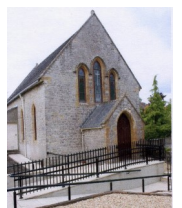

So there are lots of changes on the horizon. We will miss all the contacts that we have enjoyed in the old circuit and are grateful for the huge input from the circuit into the life of our church. And we are optimistic about our future.

normal cleaning schedule. As this has not happened since before Covid hit, there was work to be done and a dauntless posse stepped forward. The highlight, in more ways than one, was the lowering of the four enormous central ceiling lights and the removal of the dead flies! The difference is much appreciated, as were the efforts of all the workers, who helped either with refreshments, duster, hoover or technical expertise. When the whole church works together we can really make a difference.

Longburton and Yetminster Methodist Churches Close

Closure of our Churches at Longburton on Yetminster was formally confirmed at Synod in June. The last few months have not been easy for members of these two churches as difficult decisions have been made. Our thoughts and prayers go with the members as they settle into new Church Communities.

As `Christians Together` in the town and surrounding area we have met during Lent for the `Life Explored` Course. Using our church as the host for these twice a week events.

Our Bible Study (once a week) will resume once this course is completed.
